

The backup and restore feature enables you to save a backup file of the system, ensuring that all your data is securely stored. In case of data loss or system failure, you can easily restore the system from the backup file, maintaining the integrity and continuity of your work.

